DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 4 January 2008 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 4 January 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The rejection of claims 4-14 under 35 USC § 103 is maintained

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 4-14 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saebo et al. (US Pat. 6,743,931) in view of Reaney et al. (US Pat. 6,420,577).

Applicants continue to argue the Reaney reference as if it was the primary reference instead of a supporting secondary reference.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., high yield production of conjugated linoleic acid) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

There are no percentage given pertaining to yield therefore the yield disclosed in US'577 could be considered high. . As noted in Table 2 the conversion of the sunflower oil in some instances was as high as 100% and as low as 86%, which one would say is high and encompasses the yield of the instant invention. In addition, applicants have not shown the yield of the instant invention is not obvious in view of US'931, which discloses the instant process sans the crystallization purification step. US'931 discloses a process of preparing conjugated linoleic acids via isomerization, saponification then followed by distillation. Additionally the reaction can be conducted at temperatures that range between 100°C and 130°C, see columns 9 & 10.

Does or doesn't Reaney support the premise that it is conventionally known in the art to add crystallization as a purification step after saponification? Reaney does support this premise and one of ordinary skill in the art would conventionally apply a crystallization step to remove impurities produced in the saponification step.

Conclusion

5. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
